CENTRALE STARTS TO TAKE SHAPE

First National Newcastle City has recorded a flurry of sales in the Centrale apartments at Broadmeadow since construction started on the boutique complex.

There are only eight apartments left in the 39-residence development on the corner of Brunker and Awaba streets.

One is a one-bedroom residence and the rest are two bedrooms, ranging from $525,000 to $595,000.

Interest has come from investors and first home buyers.

In the city, the East End development on Hunter Street is also under construction and building is set to commence on harbour-side Lume next month.
