EDMONDSON PARK

Family fun at new urban hub

920 units, 893 houses and tower for centre

CONSTRUCTION of the first homes at Edmondson Park's new town centre will kick off soon and the anticipation was palpable recently with a family fun day to celebrate the milestone.

The community marked the official opening of Ed. Square last month with a festival featuring food trucks, live entertainment, property styling workshops, competitions and a scavenger hunt.

The event was also a chance for locals and visitors to see the vision for southwest Sydney's newest urban centre, with the sales centre and seven fully-furnished display homes showcasing the range of housing styles on offer.

Ed. Square will feature 920 apartments, as well as 893 terraces and townhouses, anchored by a 68m high residential tower in the town centre.

Residents will be within walking distance of the train station and a shopping, dining and entertainment precinct that will include an Eat

Street, a fresh food market place, childcare centre, tavern and healthcare facilities.

The first stage of the town centre is expected to be completed by early 2020.

The centre will include a

Coles supermarket.

Fraser's Property Australia sales and marketing director — NSW residential Dino Carulli said the wide choice of homes on offer at Ed. Square made it "one of the most exciting new communities" in the southwest region.
